

Same Protector DeWitt Investigating the Death Of Rondout Creek Fish

Tuesday Evening About 7 O'Clock Thousands of Fish Came to Surface Gasping for Breath—Some Killed Outright.

SAMPLES TAKEN

Several of Dead Fish and Samples of Water Taken by Conservation Dept. for Analysis.

Shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday evening Game Protector Frederick G. DeWitt of the State Conservation Department, received a telephone call at thousands of fish were appearing on the surface of the Rondout creek the foot of Broadway, and that the large majority of the fish were recovering from whatever affected them that the bodies of a number of the fish were floating in the water.

Mr. DeWitt jumped into his car and hurried to the creek front and after viewing the scene briefly he obtained the services of a chemist and samples of the water were taken as well as six or seven of the dead fish. The water will be tested and analyzed as well as the bodies of the fish to determine the cause of death.

At the spot where the fish were floating the Broadway sewer pipes into the creek. Mr. DeWitt said this morning that fish will come to the surface if poisoned or if there is a lack of oxygen in the water.

Mr. DeWitt said that when he reached the creek front last night was to find fully five or six thousand fish coming up to the surface of the water.

The unusual sight drew a large crowd of spectators to the creek front. Before Mr. DeWitt arrived at the creek front several men in boats had trouble in scooping out a number of the fish, but many of the spectators were anxious to obtain a supply of fish for the family table.

Whether there is something in the city sewage that caused the death of the fish will not be known until an analysis is made of the samples of water taken by the chemist.

This morning more dead fish were to be seen floating on top of the water.

EASTMAN CONCERN DECLARES 24TH DIVIDEND FOR EMPLOYEES

Rochester, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Wage dividend checks totaling $1,119,271 were distributed today to 17,499 employees of the Eastman Kodak Company.

The payment was voted by the Eastman directors on the basis of last year's dividends on the common stock, which totaled $5.50 a share. The "bonus" is customarily paid to employees when such dividends exceed $3.50 a share. It is the 24th since the inauguration of the plan in 1912 and brings the total to more than $35,600,000.

The 1936 payment is approximately two weeks' pay in the case of employees who have been regularly employed since the beginning of 1930.

Urgent Need For Rain

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The weather bureau said today the present urgent need for rain "is more widespread than was the case in either 1930 or 1934 at this season of the year." The official report of conditions worse than in the last two previous drought summers came as Secretary Wallace sped westward into the heart of the arid sector to see what the government can do to aid. Before leaving Washington, he conferred with President Roosevelt who pledged aid to the drought sufferers.

Walsh-Healy Bill Signed

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The Walsh-Healy bill, described by its proponents as applying to 75 per cent of American business, is now law. It was signed by President Roosevelt yesterday. It requires arms selling materials or supplies to the government to observe a 40-hour week, a ban against child labor, prevailing wage standards and other labor requirements.

Clemency Hearing

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Governor Lehman announced today that he would conduct a clemency hearing on Tuesday, July 14, for Raymond Flores convicted in New York county of capital 13-year-old Gloria Jackson. Flores is scheduled to die in Sing Sing Prison on July 23.

New York May Become Hub of Democratic Fight for Presidency

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Broad lines of the coming presidential campaign were laid definitely in New York state today, forming quickly after Governor Lehman announced his candidacy for a third term.

The Democrats, on the basis of a statement by the governor, will insist on "social security" under the New Deal.

The Republicans, on authority of two party leaders, will stump for "economy in government," and charge that Lehman is not a Democrat, "but a New Dealer."

The governor, in his announcement yesterday rescinding his decision to retire from public office, stressed social security when he said:

"I feel that I can no longer resist the pleas of my party . . . of those with whom I have worked in closest association for many years and with whom I have waged the fight for social security."

Even before his announcement, the governor said in his speech at Philadelphia, seconding President Roosevelt's renomination that:

"Government has a duty to provide social security for its people along the broad lines which have been laid down during the past four years."

"Not a Democrat." State Senator George R. Fearon of Syracuse, who has announced his willingness to accept the Republican gubernatorial nomination and who repeatedly has asserted "the New Deal is the issue," said yesterday:

"It must be apparent to everyone that Mr. Lehman is not a Democrat, but a New Dealer. No one who conscientiously is opposed to these policies can consistently support Mr. Lehman."

Assembly Speaker Irving M. Ives, a vigorous advocate of "economy in government," said:

"We feel that entirely too much legislation labeled 'emergency' has been foisted upon the people of both nation and state by a handful of administrators and manipulators."

On January 1, in the annual message to the lawmakers, Governor Lehman said he would transmit a social security program including a reduction in the old age pension eligibility limit from 65 to 60 years.

The following day, Assemblyman James J. Wadsworth, son of Rep. James W. Wadsworth (NY-R), introduced his own measure to reduce the old age pension limit, followed six weeks later by the governor's six-point program, included in it was a provision similar to the Wadsworth proposal.

Lehman made his plea for his complete program but the Republican-controlled assembly turned them all down. It did approve, however, the Wadsworth bill which subsequently passed when it became dominated by the complete program would not gain approval of both legislative branches.

"By Great Majorities." General Meantime, Postmaster General James A. Farley, state and national chairman, predicted that both President Roosevelt and the governor would carry the state "by great majorities" this year than they did in 1932.

He asserted in Atlantic City that New York citizens, "regardless of Washington, July 1 (AP)—Dramatically opposite predictions as to the result of November's balloting sprang today from Governor Herbert H. Lehman's decision to head President Roosevelt's urging and seek reelection in New York state.

John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, declared President Roosevelt would be defeated "no matter whom they get to run for governor in Republican states."

Earlier, Democratic Chairman James A. Farley had said that the Roosevelt-Lehman ticket would carry New York state by "greater majorities" this year than they did in 1932.

With the Lehman decision made after some weeks of speculation, political guessing today centered on the question whether Chairman Farley is planning to resign soon as Postmaster General. No answer to the question would be forthcoming, it appeared, until tomorrow at the earliest, when Farley is coming here from Atlantic City to confer with President Roosevelt.

The President, who indicated that the question of the resignation would be discussed, told reporters that until the talk was over, there would be no official word as to whether Farley is quitting the cabinet to devote his full time to the Democratic chairmanship and to his post as New York state chairman of the party.

May Take Leave In some quarters here, the belief was expressed that instead of resigning, Farley would take a leave of absence until the campaign was over.

As party leaders laid the groundwork for the heated campaign just ahead, a remark which Farley made at the recent Democratic national convention drew an indignant statement from the American Liberty League.

Accusing Farley of "false and demagogic language," the League quoted him as saying: "Behind the Republican ticket is the crew of the Du Pont Liberty League and their allies, which have so far financed every undercover agency that has disgraced American politics with their appeals to race prejudice, religious intolerance and personalities so gross that they had to be repudiated by the Republican organization."

Challenging Farley to produce "concrete evidence to back his charge," the League said it was a non-partisan organization that it served the interests of no individual or group and that it would continue to condemn members of any party who seek "to pervert the American constitutional system or to destroy or infringe upon the rights of the people as guaranteed in the Constitution."

Republican Chairman Hamilton was en route west from Washington today for a series of speeches and conferences with state leaders.

Borah Heads Westward Heading westward toward his Idaho home today was Senator Borah, who still remained silent on his feelings with regard to the candidacy of Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Republican nominee. He was tight-lipped too as to whether he will run for the Senate again, but his friends expected him to be a candidate.

A development with a bearing on the constitutional issues occurred in New York, where Secretary Wallace's newest book was published. Entitled "Whose Constitution," it called for a "union of people instead of states" on the ground that the "states make no economic boundaries that make sense." He criticized the idea of maintaining "states' rights at any cost."

Another rant on the constitutional issue was taken by Oden L. Mills, Hoover secretary of the treasury. He said in a speech at New York that the constitutional amendment, advocated in the Democratic platform of necessary to establish governmental power over certain economic and social problems would mean "the end of states' rights" and ultimately of individual liberty.

He also attacked the Roosevelt fiscal policies as "inflation, bankruptcy and ruin."

Large Greyhound Bus Driver Gives Own Life in Effort to Prevent Vehicle From Plunging Over Brink.

OVER AND OVER

Bus Skids, is Steered Into Bank, Turns Over Several Times in Darkness.

Natural Bridge, Va., July 1 (AP)—Five persons were killed and 24 injured today in the crash of a passenger bus above the 215-foot gorge of the famous natural bridge during a heavy rainstorm.

The large vehicle skidded as it approached the bridge. Driver J. J. Olderson, throwing his weight on the wheel, averted it abruptly, passengers said, to prevent its plunging over the brink in the darkness.

The bus crashed into a bank, rolled over several times, and came to rest against a signboard at the edge of the precipice.

Olderson and four others in the forward seats were killed. All but eight of the 32 passengers were hurt.

The front of the bus was telescoped. The top was smashed down over the occupants, many of whom were pinned in their seats.

The crushed top, however, ballooned up at the rear, saving those in the back from more serious injury or death.

Horace Hudgins, who was only slightly hurt, crawled out and ran through the storm to summon help. A rescue party sent seven of the injured to a hospital at Lexington, Va., and took the remainder to an emergency hospital, hurriedly established in the hotel at this resort community.

Bodies of the dead were taken to Roanoke, 34 miles to the south, after wreckers righted the overturned bus. The vehicle was operated by the Atlantic Greyhound Line.

The Natural Bridge, Mecca for visitors and described as one of the "Wonders of the World," is the remains of the roof of a huge cave through which Cedar Creek once flowed.

A highway, 90 feet long and from 60 to 150 feet wide, spans it. On one side of the bridge are carved into the rock the initials "G. W." which tradition says were cut there by the youthful George Washington when surveying land.

Physicians said one unidentified white woman who was dressed in yellow and was about 38 or 40 years old, died of shock, her body showed no marks of injuries.

The dead: J. J. Olderson, Roanoke, the driver; J. P. Hamilton, Birmingham, another bus driver. An unidentified white woman of about 38. An unidentified white man.

Off-Jailed Friend of Emma Goldman is Victim of Self-Inflicted Bullet Wound; Was 66 Years Old.

RECALLS TERROR

Death Revives Memory of Anarchistic Terror in This Country From 1886 to 1921.

Nice, France, July 1 (AP)—Alexander Berkman, internationally-known anarchist, died June 28 in a hospital here of a self-inflicted bullet wound, it was disclosed today.

The off-jailed friend of Emma Goldman, with whom he was deported from the United States in 1920, was 66 years old.

Hospital authorities said Berkman was taken to the hospital with a bullet in his chest. He had been found, wounded, in his home in Nice.

Alexander Berkman, would-be assassin of the late Henry C. Frick, Pittsburgh steel magnate, shared with Emma Goldman the leadership of the groups of anarchists which sprang up in the wake of the 1886 Haymarket riots in Chicago and plagued American authorities until their wholesale deportation December 21, 1921.

In that period occurred such major outrages as the attempt to kill Russell Sage, New York financier, with a bomb in 1891; the assassination of President McKinley, 1901; the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building in 1910 and the bombing of the San Francisco preparedness parade in 1916.

Rampant radicalism was at the bottom of all these events and of scores of less spectacular crimes in connection with the constant agitation against the social and political order.

Many of these events, notably the McKinley assassination, were connected by direct evidence with the preachment and writings of Berkman, Miss Goldman and their associates. Berkman was editing a magazine called "The Blast" when the San Francisco preparedness day bomb exploded, and was in dicted for murder in connection with that event, but was not brought to trial.

In February, 1916, he acknowledged that an explosion the previous July at 133rd street and Lexington avenue, New York city, in which three men were killed, resulted from efforts to manufacture a bomb which had been used against John D. Rockefeller and his son.

This was at the time when agitators and pickets had pursued the Rockefellers from New York to Tarrytown, Cleveland and back to Tarrytown.

There 250 special police protected the multi-millionaire and several anarchist speakers were soundly thrashed by the guards.

Justice caught up with Berkman three times. He served nearly 19 years for his attack on Frick, spent two years in Atlanta penitentiary for obstructing the draft in the World War, and then was deported, together with Miss Goldman, to their native Russia.

Berkman was born there in 1870. He once said that St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, was the place of his nativity, but close friends asserted that he was born in Kovno, which was the natal town of Miss Goldman.

On their return to Russia, the two were welcomed by Soviet authorities, but within a year had quarreled with Lenin and Trotsky and Berkman became an obscure drifter about Europe, asking out an existence as a translator of manuscripts, but never daring to enact his old role of flaming agitator.

Reform School Problem Goes On in Nashville

Nashville, Tenn., July 1 (AP).—Grand jurors worked in secrecy today on their report of reputedly bad behavior at a state reform school for boys, described by its superintendent as "just one big happy family."

The county body closed its investigation yesterday after an open hearing in which a former woman employee of the school accused its officials of wholesale drinking and age treatment of inmates.

The fate of Superintendent Newt Choate and others connected with the school remained uncertain while the grand jury shaped recommendations and Governor H. H. McAllister studied other findings submitted by E. L. Pardue, state commissioner of institutions.

In a preliminary report Monday the grand jury termed Choate unfit to hold his post and told of testimony that teen-age youths were beaten with a wagon wheel spoke and with a metal-studded leather strap at the institution here.

Six guards have been indicted and battery charges. Mrs. Mollie D. Stone, a former matron at the school, testified yesterday that once she saw outside a storeroom and heard "shouts and curses" on one youth as "prayed to die."

Mrs. Stone said that once she saw cases of whisky taken past her by other officers and that Choate "became angry" when she refused to take a drink.

Pardue's report to the governor is accompanied by several photographs showing wounds on inmates at the school. The investigation heard when Criminal Judge Chester Hart heard a case in which 14-year-old Ted Phillips was a witness. He was informed they resulted from beating he had received at the institution.

ZIONCHECK STARTS TOWARD HOME

An escape from a mental hospital added to his escapades, Rep. Marlon A. Zioncheck left Washington by train for his home at Seattle, Wash., promising: "I'll be back." Zioncheck Tells All He Thinks About Nation's Police, Psychiatrists

Chicago, July 1 (AP).—Bounding from an airplane to a detective squad car and finally to a train, Washington's fun-loving rover—Representative Marlon A. Zioncheck—sped toward Seattle today to campaign for re-election.

All was orderly during the visiting congressman's six-hour stay in Chicago—until he was ordered out of a passenger plane. Then all was confusion—a welter of indignant statements, hurried telephone calls, double-time action.

Zioncheck and George Bishop, a member of the Washington, D. C. police force who accompanied him here from the national capital, were comfortably seated in a Northwest Airlines plane last night.

"The motors were running," the congressman related. "Then an attendant opened the door and said, 'We're very sorry, but all reservations are sold out.'"

"I wanted to know why they should cancel ours. The attendant replied: 'I don't know. There's nothing else to do but get off.'"

Refused Plane Passage

F. J. Bixler, traffic agent, said Zioncheck had been refused passage because he had not purchased tickets in advance and because the plane had a capacity load when he arrived at the Municipal Airport.

"I must admit we were afraid to take him up," Bixler added. "We are very careful not to endanger the lives of our passengers. We told him to get off. He refused. Finally we ordered all passengers out. While he was raising hell in the hangar, we reloaded the passengers and took off."

"Zioncheck made several telephone calls, signed autographs for a curious crowd, posed for pictures and announced:

"I'm going to sue."

He leaped into the automobile of his "courageous" escort—the Chicago Police Department's pickpocket and confidence detail. They drove to the Union Station near the Loop.

The legislator left on the Milwaukee Railroad's Olympian instead. He ended an unwanted silence at the terminal to discuss his recent detention in Washington for mental examination and his flight from a hospital at Towson, Md. The reason for the action, he maintained, was that "I favored certain bills which certain interests opposed." He named neither names nor measures.

He added:

"The idea was to put me away as a maniac. For 23 days they never let me out in the sun. You can talk about prison camps in Germany and Russia but that hospital was worse because your only companions were maniacs."

Zioncheck said he escaped from the Towson Infirmary last Sunday by scaling a balcony and leaping for a pole ten feet away. He missed. He showed the legless scratches on his face and legs.

What Country Needs

He took refuge in a clump of trees and watched the search for him.

"I sat there and laughed," the congressman said. He commented:

"That this country needs is a psychopathic hospital for psychiatrists."

Zioncheck professed himself "sick and tired" of the national capital.

"They have bigger cockroaches," he continued, "more dumb people and more dumb policemen than anywhere else in the world."

Harkening back to his honeymoon trip to several Atlantic Isles—marked by a soup lapping exhibition, a challenge to a duel and a call for the marines—he asserted:

"That goes for Puerto Rico, too."

SHANDAKEN

Shandaken, July 1—The New England supper held by the Ladies' Aid Society in the church hall on Thursday netted $25.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Loskill of Woodhaven have moved into the bungalow of Ralph Yerry on Main street which they have rented for the summer.

M. Lewis of Brooklyn and Mr. and Mrs. M. Robert of New York city were guests last week at the Sprucewood.

The sum of $21 was realized at the food sale at the home of Mrs. A. G. Brown on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Yerry have moved up to Gordon Yerry's Fox Hollow place during the summer.

Sidney Boyer and son, Noel, and Miss Addie Jansen were at Mr. Bowser's summer home at the Shandaken Country Club over the weekend.

Mrs. C. C. Wood is spending some time in New York city.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its regular monthly meeting in the M. E. Church hall on Thursday afternoon.

Ralph Yerry and Ned Kelly are putting a new roof on the house formerly occupied by the late G. F. Van Keuren at Allaben.

A. G. Brown will have charge of the New York Central station at Shandaken during the summer.

Free Methodist Meeting.

The regular monthly missionary meeting for the month of July of the Free Methodist Church will be held this evening at 7:45 in the home of Mrs. Frank Fatum, 22 Washington avenue. The usual program of devotion, business and Bible study will be followed. The Bible study on the Beatitudes of Saint Paul will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Clifton T. Matthews. Members expected. Visitors always welcome.

Mary Astor speaks both French and Spanish. Her father was a professor of languages at the University of Kansas.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood actresses, in the opinion of Ernest Dryden of Paris, err in trying to dress "like Hollywood actresses" in their pictures.

"I am speaking against my own interests," he says, "when I suggest that quite frequently it would be better for pictures if the actresses were dressed in clothes bought from the dress shops, rather than in gowns designed especially for pictures."

"Many picture dresses defeat their own ends," the noted designer explains. "The moment the audience's attention is distracted by a dress, the picture suffers. Instead of watching the star's emotional performance, the audience is smitten by her clothes. What she is doing, saying or thinking, any expression of her art, is likely to be overlooked."

Defends Paris

Dryden is an unusual fellow in other ways.

His sketches—for "The Garden of Allah," "Lost Horizon" and "The King Steps Out"—are character studies as well as costume designs. Together they make a gallery of incisive portraits.

He has designed for stage, screen, ballet and for Paris salons. He still does, although he came to Hollywood to "retire."

Maintaining that Paris is still the world's fashion center, Dryden yet concedes Hollywood a certain influence on what certain women wear.

"There are concerns which specialize in Hollywood's screen clothes, and they have a large patronage," he says. "But I think this is traceable to a pathetic desire for romance."

Stenographer Dreams

"For instance, a poor little stenographer who makes $12 a week will pay 50 cents to see a movie. She sees a star playing a stenographer's role in the picture the stenographer has a romance with a handsome, dashing, leading man who is the answer to the girl's own prayer. Life for the screen stenographer is perfect in the real stenographer's eyes—and she dreams."

"When she leaves the theater, her problem then is to be as nearly like the screen heroine as possible. But what can she do? She cannot be that actress—but—ah! She can wear lapels like those her heroine wore. She can wear a hat like hers—and she does."

LEIBHARDT.

Leibhardt, July 1—Mrs. Calvin Davis and daughter, Gladys, of Kripplush, were in this vicinity on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Simpson of Pataskunk were callers recently at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Locke are the parents of a daughter, born June 25, at the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Mrs. Lillian Brown of Samsonville was a guest on Sunday afternoon and evening with her sister, Mrs. M. G. Geline, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick and some spent Saturday out of town.

Peter Ladmore is working for Ben Van Eten at Rochester Center, routing and peeling pulp wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Krieger, of Little Grandson, Ernest of Rosendale, spent Tuesday with her sister and family in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. James Winkoop and daughter, of Walden, were callers Sunday on his aunt, Mrs. Lillian Brown, and some.

Mrs. Rosa Quick spent a day recently with her sister, Mrs. Spencer Quick, of Rochester Center.

The vegetable and fruit truck from Kingston was through this section Monday.

Relatives who were entertained for supper Friday evening at the Geline and Markle homes were Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Taylor and little son, Melvin, of Walkill and mother, Mrs. Melvin Gray, of Walden.

Mrs. Amelia Mittle of Rochester Center, spent the day on Sunday with relatives at Kerkonken.

At Irvington Inn

Pardue and Allen, Catskill Mountaineers, will play for dance at the Irvington Inn, Woodstock, on Friday night.

A bill to prohibit "vice" parties was introduced during the 1935 North Carolina Legislature session.

Was Teacher of Two Generations

Poughkeepsie, July 1—Miss Mary G. Krieger, retired after 40 years' service in public schools here, said today that in one of her last classes there were 26 pupils whose parents she taught when they were children.

A former principal of Morse

School here, Miss Krieger, in 1892 was a classmate at Poughkeepsie High School of former Supreme Court Justice John E. Mack, who Friday nominated President Roosevelt for a second term.

Among other members of the class were Charles Gilbert Spross, famous composer and pianist, and Mrs. Eugene S. Craft of this city, mother of Raymond E. Craft, president of the Great Bull Markets, Inc.

Reserves Decision on Fate of Appelgate And Mrs. Creighton

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP).—Gov. Lehman reserved decision today on the fate of Everett R. Appelgate and Mrs. Mary Frances Creighton sentenced to die for the poison murder of Appelgate's wife, following a clemency hearing in the execution chambers here.

Counsel for the two defendants fought vigorously whether the man or the woman was the most to blame for the crime.

Appelgate, a former Nassau county American Legion official, was accused as the "dominating force" in the crime by Elvin N. Edwards, counsel for Mrs. Creighton. Edwards placed the blame "less wholly on that man."

Edwards said he would ask for a trial on the basis of a letter he said was written by Appelgate in which the former Legion officer wrote to Ruth, Mrs. Creighton's daughter, that he was going to try to get rid of his wife and arrange his marriage to the girl.

Arguing Mrs. Creighton was "one guilty," Charles R. Weeks, Appelgate's attorney declared: "I firmly believe that Appelgate is not guilty insofar as first degree murder is concerned. He had nothing to do with the purchase or administration of the poison."

The Appelgate and Creighton families shared a home together in Edwin, L. I. The two defendants were scheduled to die the week of July 18 at Sing Sing prison. Edwards told the governor Mrs. Creighton "is very ill" and that she would have to be carried to the electric chair.

47th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. F. Wolf, of 91 Abeel street, on June 30, celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary at their residence.

Meyers-Zimmerman

Miss Marion Zimmerman of 156 Highland avenue and George H. Meyers of 206 Flatbush avenue, were united in marriage on June 28, by the Rev. Benjamin C. Roth of St. Mary's Church. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Christians.

Loudenslager-Brown

Gladys M. Brown of 375 Albany avenue, and Earl C. Loudenslager of Painted Post, N. Y., were united in marriage June 6, 1936, at Pawtucket, R. I., by Judge H. M. Devlin. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Leddy and Miss Mary J. Coogan, both of Pawtucket, R. I.

Coming Wedding

New Paltz, July 1.—Charlotte Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Rich of Yonkers and a graduate of New Paltz Normal School, will become the bride of Elton J. Clauson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Clauson of Pearl River, on Saturday, July 25. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Clauson is employed with the Chevrolet Company in Spring Valley.

Stork Shower

Mt. Tremper, July 1.—A surprise stork shower was given at the home of Mrs. Fred Hoffman in Kingston on Saturday afternoon, June 27, by Mrs. Nellie Suediker for Mrs. Edward Rose of Mt. Tremper. A very enjoyable time was had by all and Mrs. Rose was the recipient of a lovely lot of gifts. Those attending were: Mrs. Samuel Scudder, Mrs. Earl Every, Mrs. R. Murray, Mrs. Ward Tongue, Mrs. Stuart Randall, Mrs. Reginald Every, Miss Letta Randall, Mrs. Grace Randall, Mrs. Kenneth Warren, Mrs. Fred Heintz, Mrs. Carl Osborne, Mrs. Suediker and Mrs. Rose.

Ciccone-Chiarella

New Paltz, July 1.—Sunday, June 28, Miss Jennie Vivian Chiarella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Chiarella of Beacon and a graduate of New Paltz Normal School, became the bride of Thomas Andrew Ciccone, Jr., of Monticourt. The ceremony was performed at 3 p. m. in St. Joachim's Church, Beacon, by the Rev. William Drew. Helen V. Chiarella, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Marguerite and Marie Chiarella, sisters, were bridesmaids. Joseph Brescia of Monticourt, a cousin of the bridegroom, was his attendant. Another cousin, Arthur Ciccone, of Newburgh, and Andrew Fritz, Jr., of Beacon, the ushers. The couple are on a trip to Washington, D. C., and will make their home in Beacon upon their return. Mr. Ciccone is sales representative of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. He was graduated from Montgomery High School and Eastman's School of Business.

Hummel-Bedell

A wedding of much interest locally took place Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bedell in Albany when their daughter, Miss Frances E. Bedell, became the bride of Stanley Hummel, noted young pianist and son of Ford Hummel, Albany violinist, and formerly of Kingston. After a wedding trip through New England, Mr. and Mrs. Hummel will reside in Albany. Mr. Hummel, who comes of a widely known musical family, has been an associate teacher of piano at the Juillard School of Music in New York for the last several years, where he was awarded several fellowships. He recently gave his annual recital at Town Hall in New York. Hummel was also awarded a fellowship at the Salzburg Academy of Music, Austria, where he taught concert repertoire. He is one of the organizers of the new Morris-Hummel Conservatory of Music in Albany.

Anniversary Surprise

The Vly, July 1.—On Thursday evening, June 26, the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Palen gave them a surprise in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. The party arrived at the Palen residence in a long line of autos amid honking horns and other noise makers. At a late hour very delicious refreshments were served and while still seated at the table, a troubador, A. Kerl, outside the house in the darkness serenaded the couple with Lohengrin's Wedding March. "When You and I Were Young" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold", on a cornet, which was very impressive. Mrs. Altman from Brooklyn rendered many selections on the piano in an expert manner. William Wall, popular baritone soloist of Kingston High School, sang many old favorites and was accompanied on the piano by Clem Jones. Thereafter the guests engaged in dancing and merry-making until the wee small hours of the morning. Harold Trowbridge, efficiently furnished accordion music.

Those in attendance were Mrs. George Wurster, Mrs. Thomas Olsen, Jr., and daughter, Doris, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kiersted, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krom, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trowbridge, Mr. and Mrs. August Kerl, Mrs. Arthur Trowbridge, Mrs. Mina Trowbridge, Mrs. Joseph Keigwick, Mrs. Arnold Fedda and daughter, Vivian, Mrs. Emma Kowan, Mrs. Altman, Mrs. Elizabeth Lerberman, Oscar Olsen, William Wall, Mrs. George Wurster, Jr., Clem Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James Palen and son, Reginald. All departed at a late hour wishing Mr. and Mrs. Palen many more years of happiness.

Gerstenzang-Brossman

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Brossman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brossman, of 245 Wall street, to Edward M. Gerstenzang, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gerstenzang, of New York city, took place Sunday afternoon, June 28, at the Ahavath Israel Synagogue, Wurts and Pierpont streets. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi I. Tiechler. The bride was dressed in a white chiffon gown, her veil was of tulle, trimmed with lace, and was carried by Sylvia and Ruth Sklar. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. Her only attendant was Stella Gerstenzang and the best man was George Jacobson. The ring bearer was Leonard Pecker. At the conclusion of the ceremony, a reception was held at the dining room of the Ahavath Israel Synagogue, music being furnished by Seymour Cohen and his band. After their honeymoon, the bride and groom will make their home in New York city, where Mr. Gerstenzang holds a position as pharmacist.

Lester-Walters

Highland, July 1.—A pretty wedding took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Church of the Ascension at West Park when Winifred Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walters of West Park became the bride of Stanley Lester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay D. Lester of Highland. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Arthur McKay Ackerson. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a tailored suit of white silk with hat to match, and wore a corsage of white roses and baby's breath. Her attendant was her sister, Miss Margery Walters, of New York, who wore a gown of brown and white with a corsage of pink roses. The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Albert Lester of Tupper Lake. Relatives and friends were present from New York city, Long Island and Poughkeepsie. Following congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Lester left on a motor trip in New England. On their return they will, for the present, make their home with the bride's parents at West Park. Mr. Lester is a member of the Wayne-Dunbar orchestra in Poughkeepsie.

Brown-DuBois

The wedding of Mary Elizabeth DuBois of Brinckerhoff avenue, Highland, and Scott Howard Brown, of Kingston, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brown, was held at the bride's home on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Samuel A. McCormack, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. The bride was gowned in white lace with jacket effect and white picture hat. She carried bride's roses. Helen DuBois, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss DuBois wore pink crepe with picture hat to match and carried pink roses. Cornelia DuBois, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore pink crepe with picture hat and carried pink roses. Louis Gross attended Mr. Brown as best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Russell Wyckoff of Milford, Pa., played the wedding marches and "I Love You Truly" during the ceremony. The house was decorated in pink and white, carried out in crepe paper and flowers. A reception was held after the ceremony. Mrs. Brown's going away outfit was gray with accessories to match. After a short wedding trip, they will reside in Kingston where Mr. Brown is chef in a restaurant. Mrs. Brown is a graduate of Highland High School and Mr. Brown of a Philadelphia high school. Gifts included linen, electrical appliances, silver, cut glass and checks. The bride's gifts to her attendants were a necklace to the maid of honor and a purse to the bridesmaid. Mr. Brown's gift to the best man was a gold tie set.

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, July 1.—The Sunday School picnic, which was held at Woodland Valley on Friday, was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shultis of Wittenberg were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Gardner.

Burt Gardner is completing the new addition he is adding for living quarters to his store.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilber and family attended a birthday party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Quick at Lake Hill on Saturday evening in honor of Mr. Quick's birthday.

Leona M. Randall is ill. He is under the care of Dr. Jacobson at the Kingston Hospital. His many friends trust he will soon be improved.

Mrs. Carl Osborne and brother, Edward Rose, of Arlington, N. J., were week-end visitors here.

Program at Highland
Highland, July 1.—Mrs. Manetta Lord with her daughters, Iva May, Jean and Margery, and Charlotte Cowley, presented a musical program at the Grange hall Friday evening that drew applause from the delighted audience. The performers came from North Olmsted, O., and were travelling in a car and trailer from their home to New York. They had applied for an opportunity to be heard on the Major Bowes hour so from here went to New York on Thursday for the first audition and for the second on Saturday Sunday evening they had their chance. The program they rendered was as follows:

"Show Boat," ensemble; "Captain Betty," three maidens; "To a Wild Macdonald," mascot; "Two Chums," Perfect, three maidens; "Bohm, mascot," "Autumn," mascot, one maid, "The Modern Time Hour," original, Marjorie Lord; "Serenade," Titi, three maidens; their mascot; "Calve Triste," us, Charlotte Cowley; "Thunder Lightning," Iva May and Jean Lord; "Carry Me Back to Olden," Smith, Iva May and Lord; "The Little Tumbler," Marjorie Lord; "Gingham Dog Calico Cat," reading, Marjorie Lord.

dance, Iva May and "John Lord," "Fantasia Impromptu," Chynin, Charlotte Cowley; "Nanina," mascot; display of medals, mascot; practicing for Maj. Bowes Hour, three maidens and their mascot. Miss Cowley was the pianist of the group while Iva May and Jean Lord played the clarinet and ten year old Margery Lord was the violinist. The party had traveled 725 miles. A silver offering was taken toward their expenses.

The Colony Club at Woodstock announces its formal opening of the season on July 4 with a fun and frolic convention, featuring The Sizzlers Swing Band, who are re turning to The Colony Club for their second season, and a floor show of continuous entertainment.

The Sizzlers Swing Band, one of

WOR's ace orchestras, were partici pants in the Swing Music Concert held last month at the Imperial

Theatre in New York, where more than 20 of the leading Swing Bands of radio fame appeared on one stage

before a capacity audience.

In addition to the Sizzlers, The Colony will present as Master of Ceremonies, David Howell, who has been heard on the air over the Mutual Broadcasting System as

"The Cruising Troubadour."

Also on the program every evening will appear Joe Hathaway, who appeared on Broadway this past sea son in two stage successes, "A Sight Case of Murder" and "Night of January 16th." Miss Hathaway, when not playing dramatic parts, broadcasts her own arrangements of popular and old time melodies over the Columbia network.

Other featured artists in the large cast, who will be introduced by The Cruising Troubadour, include the popular Master and Ethel Walker, both of whom played in the New York and London productions of Low Leslie's popular Blackbirds.

Entertainment and dancing will be continuous from 6:30 p. m. until midnight. The Colony Club has en larged its catering facilities to ac commodate more than 300 party for banquets and conventions.

White Elephants Today—Want Ad Tomorrow—Cash the Next Day

Headin' West!
Peaceful evening... Setting Sun
Faded working... Job Well done;
Tired and weary... Needing rest!
Stomach empty... Headin' West!
—IRVIN FOX.

You will know whether or not the closed season for honeymooning has arrived by the way your wife answers you when you ask her to darn your socks.

Mrs. Gnaggs—Often do I think that women are more courageous than men.

Mr. Gnaggs—Yes. Where would you find a man who was brave enough to stop in the middle of a busy street and pull out a mirror and doll himself up before a crowd?

The henpecked husband wouldn't be so bad off if he could only sell tickets to his wife's lectures.

Hiram—Well, Silas, how do you like that mare you bought the other day?

Silas—Well, if I had it to do over again I'd sure buy a horse. That mare can't help stopping and admiring herself every time we come to any little bit of water.

Lots of Folks Remain Fresh Even After They're Roasted.

The clerk informed the boss that a lady wished to see him.
Boss—Is she good looking?
Clerk—Yes, sir—very.
Boss—Then show her in.
After the woman had gone the boss sent for the clerk.
Boss (accidentally)—You're a nice judge of beauty.
Clerk—Well, sir, I thought she might be your wife.

Boss (snapping)—She was.

Where does a left-handed Scotchman keep his money? Why, in his right hand pocket, of course.

Elmer—What are you so sad about, honey-bunch?

Honey-Bunch—Oh, darling, I was just thinking this will be our last evening together until tomorrow night.

We gauge a person's intellect not so much on what they know, as how much good their knowledge does them.

Optimist—You can't get something for nothing in this life.

Gloomy Citizen—That's right. If I want even a few kind words about my disposition and some hope of future success I've got to go to a fortune teller and pay for them.

It is easy to get swelled up, but dedication is still easier.

A lady who had employed a Chinese as a cook asked him his name.

Chinese—Me name Sam Toy Lee.

Lady—Ah, your name is too long.
I shall call you John.

Chinese—All right. What's your name?

Lady—Mrs. Charlotte Anne Hemingway.

Chinese—Your name too long. I call you Cholly.

Yes, age brings wisdom, but never yet has it changed a young nit-wit to anything but an old nit-wit.

Senorita—I suppose you carry your wife's picture with you on all your travels?

Senor—Si, Senorita. I've found nothing that will cure a spell of homesickness quicker.

Prejudice roasts on a porch from which facts are always barred.

COLD SHOWER'S SHOCKING BUT DOESN'T COOL YOU OFF

Charleston, S. C. (AP)—As a cooling off method, the cold shower or bath is discredited by Roper Hospital officials.

"Shun them in favor of water of about body temperature," they advise. "Cold water shocks—does not cool and calm you."

Another summer hint: "Watch your salt intake!"

Exertion during summer results in the loss of much of the body's vital salt through perspiration. This breaks down physical resistance, brings on headaches and possible spasms, say the doctors. They advise dropping a pinch of salt in drinking water occasionally.

PUFFY

"Come, come," says the counterpane,
"Keep you no more!"

We don't allow weeping in this kind of room.

If it's something to eat, then I can supply it.

But there are not much in anyone's stomach.

THE VACATION-HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Suggestions On The Choice Of A Resort Outfit

The summer version of holiday spirit can hardly be confused with the feeling that manifests itself during its winter counterpart, Christmas, although both put us in our most joyous moods. Summer offers an opportunity to break from the routine of work, never more edifying than when the temperature climbs, and turn this same heat to our advantage in a holiday amid surroundings of leisure and luxurious relaxation. And since diversion is an important part of a holiday, the proper wearables for the holiday maker are of major importance if the vacation is to be entirely successful.

For summer resort formality, this sharp collar, double-breasted white dinner jacket is smart and comfortable in linen, Palm Beach cloth or synthetic fabrics. Black dress trousers are also correct.

The combination of plain jacket and white flannel slacks is a complete vacation wardrobe in itself. A pair of grey flannels might be added,
if you plan to golf.

A dress shirt of white broadcloth with soft wide pleats is either collar attached or for wear with separate laundered collar.
Ideally suited for the purposes of vacation wear, is the shirt made from a fine synthetic yarn jersey cloth in shirring patterns.

Pumps complete the summer formal outfit. Flaps great for dancing and highly fashionable with white dinner jackets.

A checked sport shirt for lounge wear and slacks for beachwear should be included in the vacation outfit.

Here's a new sport shoe of yellow material with heavy red rubber sole. Best to happen to tell you when to get these, or have your favorite shoe shop write.

IMPORTANT NOTE: The cards to change and stamped self-addressed envelope brings you "ESQUIRE'S STYLISH GUIDE TO WEARABLES," containing complete and authoritative information on the fashion for various types of occasions and wedding customs.

Survey of 562 Ulster County Boys Brings Out Interesting Facts

Some very interesting facts regarding the boy population in a number of communities in the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts, are disclosed in figures compiled by Scout Executive Wright, following surveys made recently.

The surveys were made with the assistance of the school authorities, who had access to the accurate school census taken each year in school districts, and from questioning the boys themselves. In listing the figures for the various communities boys who live in the school district, but who are not residents of the community itself, are excluded from the tables.

Surveys of other communities in the Council territory are contemplated or are under way. The information secured is designed not only to aid Scout officials of the Council and the various districts concerned, but also to assist the pastors of the churches and others interested in the welfare of boys.

Three of the communities—Ellenville, Highland and New Paltz—in which surveys have been completed, are located in Ulster county. The others are in Greene county. In all, the questionnaires submitted covered a list of 21 questions. Boys included in the survey are those between the ages of 8 and 18.

The figures for the three Ulster county communities are as follows:

	Ellenville	Highland	New Paltz
No. boys surveyed	254	184	124
Cannot swim—want to	65	70	25
Employed part time	44	49	43
Not employed	212	135	81
Do not live with parents	7	4	10
Father dead	10	4	10
Mother dead	7	3	13
Both parents dead	0	0	2
Registered Scouts	71	12	28
Want to be Scouts (of Scout age)	61	67	37
Church Preference:
Catholic	36	101	25
Jewish	66	0	0
Protestant	144	75	79
Others	8	8	20
Claim Church Membership:
Attend regularly	34	75	23
Protestant	30	52	13
Attend regularly	66	33	40
Members of Sunday school	114	53	46
Attend regularly	99	38	37

The figures show, among other things, that there is material to increase present Scout membership from 86 to 179 per cent in these communities, taking only those boys who have signified a desire to become Scouts. They also show an opportunity for Red Cross swimming instruction, as 161 boys said that they could not swim, but wanted to learn.

NEW HURLEY

Landon Considers This His Last Free Day

Estes Park, Colo., July 1 (AP).—The care of a presidential campaign about to overtake him, Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas considered this the last day of his vacation "practically free" for fishing and visiting and determined to make the most of it.

For one more good season of fishing, the Republican nominee planned an automobile trip to Grand Lake, Colo., 42 miles west of here, to the summer home of Arthur J. Carruth, Jr., managing editor of the Topeka State Journal.

Beginning tomorrow with the arrival of three members of his campaign staff, Landon is expected to devote much of the remainder of his stay here to conferences with party leaders. He will return to Topeka next week for a special session of the legislature.

Due from Topeka tomorrow are Earl H. Taylor, former editor of the National Farm Weekly; Charles P. Taft, son of the late President Taft; and Ralph West Robey, Columbia University economist.

W. D. Bell of New York, chairman of the party's national finance committee, is expected Friday.

Kripplush, July 1.—The date for the annual Sunday School picnic has been set for July 21, afternoon and evening. Watch for particulars.

Many congratulations are being received by the Misses Marie and Virginia L. Christians, who received their diplomas last Tuesday at the commencement held at the Municipal Auditorium, Kingston. They will receive their state diplomas later.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis and daughter, Evelyn, and Mrs. Grace Davis, spent Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. Christians and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Davis and mother, Mrs. Laura M. Davis, and sister, Theresa and Dorothy, spent Sunday at Delaware Water Gap, Pa.

The T. F. C. Club will meet at the home of Miss Katherine Van Alst Thursday evening.

Olin Howland, character actor, rates as one of Hollywood's best cooks. He is proud of his croquet suzettes.

J. P. Morgan Rushed Home on Stretcher

New York, July 1 (AP).—J. Pierpont Morgan, the financier, suffering from neuritis that made walking painful, was taken to his Long Island estate at Glen Cove, today and placed under close medical care.

Two sons of the 69-year-old banker, Junius and Henry, were at the Mill Neck station of the Long Island Railroad when a special car to which their father had been carried by stretcher and ambulance yesterday at West Manchester, Mass., arrived.

Junius Morgan said: "There's nothing wrong. He just needs rest. The doctors decided he had better come home and rest for a while."

The banker's sister, Mrs. Stephen V. R. Crosby, with whom he had been visiting in Massachusetts, said her brother was only "slightly ill." Dr. George Denny, who attended him there, said his condition was not serious.

The private car was taken to Long Island after lying on a siding about an hour and a half in New York's Pennsylvania station.

Dr. Everett C. Jesup of Roslyn, Long Island, a Morgan physician, was notified of the homeward trip and made preparations to transport the banker over the short distance from the Long Island railway station to the Morgan estate at Glen Cove. If it were determined the financier would be taken to his Long Island residence.

Morgan had been visiting his sister, who maintains a summer home in West Manchester, since Harvard University's commencement two weeks ago.

The train left West Manchester with a doctor, two nurses and two men who seemed to be guards aboard.

Morgan was brought to the railroad station, in the Manchester town ambulance and transferred immediately to the private car, the "Pioneer," waiting in the station.

The car was rerouted a few miles north of Boston and was attached there to a New York, New Haven and Hartford express.

His associates said there was nothing alarming in his condition, that he had been "progressing nicely" and would sail as usual for his summer vacation in Scotland.

The use of the stretcher and ambulance in transporting him to the train for his home-coming was said only to have been to spare the elderly banker the pain of walking. The neuritis was said to have affected his legs and arms.

Answering the call of summer, the annual parade of vacation-minded motorists from the United States to Canada is mustered, and the friendly invasion northward has begun. Last year almost fifteen million tourists from the United States visited Canada, and reports of admissions of tourist automobiles received from the three leading ports of entry—Windsor, Fort Erie and Niagara Falls—indicate that the traffic will be much heavier than in 1935.

PRESIDENT TO DEDICATE NEW PARK

The newest of the nation's parks will be dedicated July 3 by President Roosevelt when 175,000 acres of mountain land, purchased by the state of Virginia, will be turned over to the government. This view of the park, to be known as the Shenandoah National Park, was taken from the top of Stony Man mountain. It shows the Skyline Drive. (Associated Press Photo)

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By Associated Press

Hoarding

Chatham, N. Y.—Mazuma, a cow owned by William Brawn, was reported doing well today after an operation for "stomach trouble."

Dr. F. D. B. Smith, veterinarian, removed two nails, a piece of wire, parts of iron washers, some solder, several stones, a dime and two pennies.

Professor Who?

Huntington Beach, Calif.—Judge C. T. Pann was out a $10 marriage fee today and had instead a kiss from a flustered bridegroom.

After the ceremony the groom, nameless here, gave the judge a hasty kiss, handed the bride the fee and before Judge Pann could point out the mistake, hurriedly left.

All-Together

Oklahoma City—From Roscoe E. Dickson to the Chamber of Commerce came the following suggestion for putting Oklahoma City's civic pride on a concrete basis:

Every day, at an unannounced time, all fire sirens would start screaming simultaneously. Every citizen would stop whatever he might be doing, turn to the nearest person, vigorously shake his hand and say enthusiastically, "We're living in the finest city in the United States!"

The chamber took it under advisement.

Should've Framed It

Falls City, Neb.—Ray Bader said the only percentage in this transaction was the amusement he got out of it. He received a check for one cent—an overcharge in his Missouri Pacific Railroad pension payment—and the bank charged him a dime to cash it.

Forewarned Was Forearmed

Chicago—When William Claude received his veteran's bonus, he went out and bought a bigger house. Yesterday he knew it was a good hunch—his wife bore their third consecutive set of twins, both girls.

Before the babies began coming in pairs Mrs. Galudec, 32, had had five others, one at a time.

New Jersey Has Cash Balance

Trenton, N. J., July 1 (AP).—New Jersey ended the fiscal year 1935-36 with a cash balance of $14,822,314—thanks to the Dorrance estate inheritance tax of $15,600,000. The cash balance exceeded the previous year's by $10,503,915. The tax on estate of the late John T. Dorrance, Camden soup manufacturer, was paid recently after several years of litigation.

Card Party and Dance

The Republican Club of the town of Kingston will give a card party and dance at Reiff's Hall, Sawkill, on Friday, July 3. Refreshments will be served. Music will be furnished by the Hayseiders orchestra.

At the last census there were over 1,500 jewellery stores operating in Canada, with a total sales volume of about twenty-seven million dollars.

Local Death Record

Martin J. Outlon, World War veteran, died this morning in the United States Veterans' Hospital, 130 West Kingsbridge Road, New York city, after a long illness. The body will be brought to his late home, 79 West Pierpont street, today, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Friends of Ludwig Werner have received word of his death at Wurttemberg, Germany, where he went last November in search of health. Mr. Werner, known to many friends and customers of the Governor Clinton Beauty Shop as Mr. Ludwig, left Kingston last November for his home in Germany and notice of his death on June 21, has just been received here. For about three years he was a resident of Kingston and was connected with the Beauty Shop operated by Miss Anna Rucert. Besides his wife he is survived by his mother.

Thomas S. Connelly, 45 year old Interstate Commerce Commission accountant, died suddenly at his work on June 26 from a heart attack. He had been in the government service for nearly 20 years and lived at 808 Jefferson avenue, Rivedale, Md. He is survived by his widow, Freda Gertrude, a 17 year old son, John, his mother, Mrs. Catherine Connelly, of Kingston, two sisters, Mrs. Sarah T. Gallagher, also of Kingston, and Mrs. William J. Ward of Brooklyn, and a brother, James V. Connelly, of Detroit. A native of Kingston, Mr. Connelly was graduated in accountancy from Southeastern University in 1924. He received his law degree from the same university in 1933 and was a member of the District bar.

Camp Happyland Now Ready to Receive 48 Boys of Ulster County

Camp Happyland, Ulster County's Health Camp which is supported through funds raised by the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, is ready today to receive 48 of Ulster county's boys who will report at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon for a month's stay at the camp. After a month at the Health Camp the boys will return to their homes stronger and better equipped to carry on the succeeding year's work and their places will be taken by 48 girls who will spend the month of August at Camp Happyland.

The children who will attend the camp during the next two months are boys and girls from every section of Ulster county, every town in the county will be represented, and the enrollment will be made up from boys and girls who are TB contacts with no active disease and from undernourished, underweight and underprivileged children. Each town sends in its recommendation for enrollment at the camp and the staff of the camp, compiled by the camp capacity, picks the most needy cases from the list.

Who nine months' stay at camp is over practically every one of the boys and girls who attend will be returned to their home better nourished, increased in weight and with a brighter future.

A call at Camp Happyland this morning by a Freeman reporter found every member of the staff hard at work making last minute arrangements for the reception of the 48 boys who will report Thursday.

Under the direction of Miss Katherine Murphy, R. N., the county nurse who is director of the camp, the entire staff of the camp was putting on the finishing touches. The 48 cots were all being made up with crisp white sheets and blankets. In the kitchen the culinary staff was at work preparing food and getting last minute matters attended to. Inside the building a vast amount of work has been done since last fall getting the main building in shape for the little guests. Outside the grounds have been landscaped and planted and the playtime equipment, all bright and glistening in a new coat of paint, has been erected and is ready for the opening day. There are all kinds of playtime devices such as slides, swings and athletic equipment which will be in charge of the physical director at the camp.

In the main building of the camp the dormitory equipment is in place and ready for the little guests whose ages run from 6 to 12 years. The dining room with its long white tables and the contrasting red chairs at the head of each table for the counselors presented a pretty picture. Downstairs in the shower room the walls and equipment are glistening with a new coat of paint and throughout the building there is evidence of the attention and care which the local board gives annually to Camp Happyland. The store-room where the food is kept was well stocked with health given foods and not only is the health and comfort of the little guests carefully guarded but also their safety. At each corner of the main building has been erected ample fire escapes for emergency use in addition to the main stairways. Not a single portion of the building is left without emergency exits.

The Staff
This year the staff of Camp Happyland is made up of Miss Murphy, county nurse, who will act as the director as usual; there will be counselors, Willard Burke of Highland, who has charge of physical education at Highland School, and Harold Darling of Kingston, who is associated with the New Paltz Normal school. Miss Agnes Callahan, R. N., is the resident nurse, who will have in charge the health of the guests. Mrs. Mary Wolf will preside in the kitchen as cook and prepare the healthful foods which will bring back to normal weight and nourishment many of the boys and girls during the summer. Miss Catherine Corcoran is the housekeeper and assistant to the staff. The outside work is in charge of Irving Myers, caretaker of the camp.

The grounds have been beautified this year by the addition of flowers, and other landscaping, this work was done through the generosity of Le-

Roy Brown, who provided the flowers for planting.

New Recreation Hall.
When the children arrive at Camp Happyland Thursday a new and much needed surprise will greet them. It is the new recreation hall which has been erected this year through the generosity of a number of people who have donated their services and materials toward the construction of this new unit at the camp. Others who sold items of equipment did so at cost in order that this important part of the camp might be completed this year.

It was with just pride that James F. Loughran, chairman of the Camp Happyland committee, pointed out the new recreation hall to the Freeman reporter for the building has been erected and equipped without the expenditure of a single cent of the funds derived from the sale of Christmas seals. All of the money derived from the sale of Christmas seals is used for the support and maintenance of the children at the camp and the entire cost of the new building, which is 24 by 74 feet in size, has been borne by funds from outside the seal fund. The committee has worked diligently for the completion of the building and today the final touches were being made to make it ready for the opening of the camp. Mr. Myers had been at work washing the windows and getting things in ship shape for the inspection of the new recreation hall by the members of the Camp Happyland committee this evening. Prior to the opening the committee will make an inspection of the new hall and the entire camp at 8 o'clock this evening.

Camp Happyland recreation hall is located on the right of the road as one approaches the camp. It is a frame building one story in height and 24 by 74 feet in size with a small annex which will house an infirmary. The building is equipped with benches in the body of the hall and at the north end is an elevated platform where plays and entertainments may be given by the children or by organizations who care to donate their services for the entertainment of the campers.

The building was a long needed part of the camp. On rainy days it will provide a place for the children to play and will act as a center for all camp activity when it is impossible for the children to be out of doors.

Much of the material was donated for the building and construction work was done mainly by members of the County Highway Department on their off days and on Saturdays when they were not regularly engaged. Through the donation of their services Camp Happyland has been able to provide this most necessary building for the little folks of the camp. The recreation hall is equipped with a piano and play equipment is being provided. Entrance to the auditorium is through two large main doors but at the far end an emergency fire door is provided. The hall is equipped with a drinking fountain and also toilet facilities. The Federation of Women's Clubs will donate the equipment for the infirmary.

Septic Tank Abandoned
This year Camp Happyland has abandoned the old septic tank and is now connected up directly to the new Clinton avenue sewer system which was completed last fall after the close of the camp. City water is provided in both the main building and in the new recreation hall.

To the south of the main building has been erected an open air fireplace where picnic facilities have been provided for open air events in the grove.

Today everything will be made ready for the inspection of the committee tonight and the reception of the guests on Thursday.

CAN VEGETABLES THIS WAY

Jars of mixed vegetables—don't they come in handy and taste so good? All year long in soups, stews, and salads!

Equal parts peas, carrots, corn, and celery make an excellent mixture. After carrots and celery, then cook all four vegetables in a little water before pouring in the jar of oil.

And here's something new and different: Canned Tomatoes, Wash, stem, seed, and chop fine a dozen medium-sized green peppers. Peel and slice a quart of white onions. Simmer the two until tender, add the peeled and cut small enough tomatoes to equal peppers and onions in bulk and add hot mixture and continue to simmer until tomatoes are tender. Then hot—strained—sauce.

When cooking a mixture of vegetables, use all for the one recipe. Name, Address, and the NAME of the nearest dealer. The first mixture, bottled.

Robert W. Flemming Died Tuesday Night

Fatally Stricken as He Was Alighting From Automobile in Front of His Home on New Street—Had Been Badly Injured When Struck by Lightning.

As Robert W. Flemming, 60, was stepping from an automobile in front of his home, 33 New street, about 11 o'clock Tuesday evening he was fatally stricken with a heart attack and was dead when he was carried into his home. Mr. Flemming was critically injured on the evening of May 3, when he was struck by a bolt of lightning while seated on his enclosed front porch.

At the time Mr. Flemming was talking with his son-in-law, Frank Grant, who sat near him on the porch. During the terrific electrical storm that broke over the city a bolt struck the cornice of the porch damaging it and breaking one of the glass windows with which the porch was enclosed. Mr. Flemming, who was seated in a chair was struck by the bolt and hurled to the floor of the porch.

Mr. Flemming was hurried to the Benedictine Hospital where his condition remained critical for several days, when he began to improve and was able to return home after spending several weeks in the hospital. Since then he has been able to get around with the aid of a cane.

Tuesday evening he had been to the home of a friend, and was returning home in an auto. The car pulled up to the curb in front of his house, and just as Mr. Flemming was about to step out of the car he was suddenly stricken and collapsed.

Mr. Flemming for a number of years has been foreman of the carter department of the Cornell Steamboat Company at the Cornell shops on the Strand. He had always been a staunch Republican and for six years had served the Eighth Ward as supervisor. He was one of the organizers in the formation of the Ulster County Grand Jurors' Association and was president of that organization.

During the many years he had been in the employ of the towing company and through his activities as a member of the Ulster county board of supervisors, he had become widely and favorably known, not only in Kingston but Ulster county. He was a man of genial personality and made friends easily, and the friends he made he kept.

Mr. Flemming is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth N. Flemming; a son, George N. Flemming of this city; a sister, Miss Anna A. Flemming of this city, and two brothers, former Corporation Counsel Harry H. Flemming and Thomas W. Flemming, president and general manager of the Kingston and Rhinebeck Ferry Company, and vice president of the Cornell Steamboat Company.

MARKETS FOR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

New York, July 1 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—The supply of snap beans was in excess of trade requirements and prices slumped. A small shipment of upstate wax beans arrived and sold at $1.00 per bushel basket. Long Island Bountiful beans in bushel baskets or sacks 40c-87½c. Green round stringless and Valentines brought 50c-75c and wax beans ranged from 25c-50c.

Supplies of celery from Orange county were moderate, offerings in the rough, packed in half crates $2.00-$2.50, fancy well balanced $3.00-$3.25, ordinary and green $1.25-$1.75, highball or highball crates $1.25-$1.50 for the best and quarter crates $1.00-$1.25. Bunched celery 40c-65c for the medium to large size and 20c-35c for the small.

Supplies of Big Boston lettuce from upstate were moderate. Crates of two dozen heads from the western part of the state $1.00-$1.12½, while consignments from Orange county brought 75c-90c, poorer sold down to 50c-65c. Iceberg type in crates 50c-75c and in baskets 50c-65c. Romaine 35c-60c per crate.

Receipts of green peas from Madison county were fairly liberal.

Jobbing business was consummated at $1.25-$1.75, poorer sold down to $1.12½.

Spinach of good quality was steady. Oswego county, spinach 75c-$1.00 per bushel basket.

Hudson Valley cherry receipts were fairly liberal, jobbing sales in quart baskets 6c-10c, in 4 quart baskets 25c-40c, in 12 quart baskets 75c-$1.00.

Sweet cherries in quart baskets 10c-14c for the black or red and 7c-10c for white. Four quart baskets of black cherries 40c-85c, red 40c-65c and white 30c-50c.

Strawberries were generally weaker. Oswego county, strawberries 15c-22c per quart, poorer and small 10c-13c.

party affiliations, are glad to hear of Lehman's candidacy, and indicated the governor needed about two more years in office to complete his legislative program "so necessary to citizens of the state."

Republican State Chairman Melvin C. Eaton, concluded a Syracuse conference with upstate chieftains "with renewed strength and confidence in the governor's defeat as well as that of the President."

Eaton said that the governor's "surrender, despite his protests, certainly has not left him in a favorable light before the people of the state."

The governor's decision to run again automatically ended the boom for other aspirants for the Democratic nomination, and at the same time indicated to the Republican leaders their campaign strategy.

Just who will be the Republican nominee for governor probably will not be known until the state convention here September 28 and 29.

In addition to Fearon, Mayor Roland B. Marvin of Syracuse and Supreme Court Justice William J. Bleakley of White Plains are most frequently mentioned for the post.

Support of Committee

New York, July 1 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman was assured today of the campaign support of a citizens' committee organized here a month ago to launch a statewide movement to draft him for a third term.

After the governor announced he would run again, Maurice P. Davidson, chairman of the committee, sent him a telegram, advising him the committee would continue actively in the campaign to aid his election.

Davidson wired the governor: "We will support you and your policies as proclaimed by you, and we will continue to the best of our ability to help you bring to fruition the legislation necessary to translate your program into the declared policy of the state of New York."

Former Supreme Court Justice Daniel P. Cohalan, one of the five prominent Democrats who called upon the Philadelphia convention not to renominate President Roosevelt, declared that if Governor Lehman runs for a third term "he will be the worst liked governor ever to run for re-election in the state of New York in a generation."

Kaslich A. C. Beats Hedricks, 2-1; Takes City League First Half Title

The Kaslich A. C. annexed the title for the first half of the City League last night at the Athletic Field when they nosed out the Hedricks Brewers by 2-1 in a thriller packed battle.

Evans, on the mound for the A. C., held the Brewers to three well scattered bingles and fanned four. Joe Brown was tossing them over for the losers and allowed but five hits. It was his first setback for the season.

Hedricks scored their only run in the third frame when Quest hit a single and advanced to third on a steal and Turk's fly to right field. He scored when Burgevin misjudged Cullum's grounder down the third base line.

Their lead was short lived. In the next inning the A. C. tied up the count and won the game in the last half of the sixth when, with the bases full, Brown passed Debrosky, forcing in the winning tally.

The Kaslich A. C. with six wins and two losses capped the title for the first half. The final stretch drive will get under way immediately.

U. S. to Depend on New Talent in Bid for Olympic Honors at Berlin

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, July 1 (AP).—To a greater extent than ever before, the United States will depend upon new talent—Olympic freshmen—in bidding for track and field team honors at Berlin.

Of the 120 or more athletes who have qualified thus far for the final American tryouts, to be held July 11-12 at Randall's Island, only 17 have had Olympic experience. Most of the veterans, as a matter of fact, will have a tough time making the team in competition with younger rivals.

The only 1932 Olympic champion who qualified, John Anderson in the discus, has an outside chance to finish among the top three in the tryouts, on the basis of comparative performances to date.

Frank Wykoff, Southern California sprinter and holder of the world 100 yard record, is the only survivor of both the 1928 and 1932 teams with a chance to make the team. The boy wonder of 1928 has only a remote prospect of landing among the first three in the 100 meters but he might qualify for the 400 meter relay team, which he anchored in 1932.

The four best bets among the veterans are Ralph Metcalfe in the sprints, Ben Eastman in the 800, Glenn Hardin in the 400 meter hurdles, and Corby Johnson, the great negro high jumper. Metcalfe, couldn't beat Eddie Tolan in either Olympic sprint final in 1932, and he is up against another brilliant negro rival this time in Jessie Owens, the triple threat from Ohio State.

Owens, in present form at sprinting and broad jumping, has a chance to become the first Olympic triple winner since Patsy Healey turned the trick in 1924 at Paris. Patsy won the 1,500 and 5,000 meter flat races and the 10,000 meter cross country.

Eastman, runner-up to Bill Carr in the 400 at Los Angeles, will be America's favorite in the year's 800. Hardin, runner up to Ireland's Bill Tiedall in the low hurdles four years ago and holder of all records for the event, appears close to his peak. Johnson, who lost out in a four-cornered jumpoff for the last Olympic title, is a much improved performer. His closest competition is expected from the American team-mates, assuming he has no difficulty in the final tryouts.

Among the milers only Glenn Cunningham, the world's record-holder, a survivor of the 1932 team, is expected to make the team. Cunningham failed to make the team in 1932 and Bill Bonthron, then just another milers two-sifter, didn't even appear in the tryouts.

Fullers walloped the DeMolays by the one sided count of 12-4 last night. Mannello and Fatum scored two homers each to feature the game. Tommy Rowland was the winning pitcher.

Teleos 7-Headquarters 8

The Telephone boys nosed out the Headquarters Battery by 7-6, on the Armory field. Hankinson tossed them over for the winners while Preston was on the mound for the Battery.

B. P. W. 2-Central Hudson 1

The Board of Public Works won a fast game from the Central Hudson last night at Hasbrouck Park by the score of 2-1.

Central Hudson scored a run in the second and held the lead until the last of the seventh when Jimmy Doyle weakened and allowed the B. P. W.'s a home run and a triple. Up to this time Doyle had allowed only five well scattered hits.

Jim Norton tossed them over for the Hudsonites and was picked for only six hits but errors by his mates made the going tough.

Forfeited Games

Last night marked the third game that has been forfeited in the Church League this season. East Kings-ton failed to have even one man on the field, and yet they did not notify the Comforter team that they did not intend to play. It would seem no more than fair that any team not intending to go through with their scheduled game, should notify the opposing team's manager at the earliest possible date so that the time that is taken to notify players to be present and not to plan other things for that night, can be saved. It would show consideration and good sportsmanship if from now on all teams will make it a point to notify their opponents in case of their inability to keep their schedule—H. P. Elghmey.

Olympic Outlook

Venzke Leads Yanks in Pursuit Of Elusive 'Metric Mile' Crown

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York (AP)—Few Olympic events have had as fascinating a background, or as many bitter disappointments for your Uncle Samuel, as the 1,500-meter run.

The "metric mile" has held a jinx for our lads since those memorable Olympic days when bowler hats were the official style and you couldn't get an American to say a kind word for British athletic officials.

Since "Peerless Mel" Sheppard led the pack home at Shepherd's Bush in 1908, the United States has not produced an Olympic 1,500-meter champion. The books show that milers like John Paul Jones, Abel Kiviat, Norman Taber, Jole Ray, Lloyd Hahn and Gene Venzke did a flock of record-cracking indoors or out, during the subsequent years, but you will not find any of them listed among the Olympic champions.

A lanky Englishman who is now one of Louisville's solid citizens, Arnold N. Strod Jackson, gave a handsome beating in 1912 to the best of milers we ever sent to the Olympic Games, and that includes any combination going abroad this year. Ray never had much luck on his Olympic jaunts, finally making his best showing in the marathon in 1928. Hahn was a huge disappointment the same year, despite being given special consideration and not even being forced to qualify for the 1,500.

Eyes On Venzke

Four years ago, as most everyone recalls, Venzke, with a 4:10 indoor mile behind him, failed to make the Olympic team. The stocky young man who beat him out for the last place was Glenn Cunningham, who has since then acquired the world indoor (4:08.4) and world outdoor (4:06.7) records.

Now the boys have good reason to fear Cunningham has passed his peak; that Bill Bonthron, the Princeton ace who waged a thrilling duel with him two years ago, won't make a successful comeback, and that again the pressure will be on Venzke. Gene, four years older and a better finisher, should not have another attack of the jitters, such as he had at Palo Alto in 1932. He has regained confidence, seemingly has Cunningham's "number" after three years of trying, and should be the No. 1 American at Berlin.

SPORT SLANTS

By all cinderpath rules Forrest (Spec) Towns, slim, graceful University of Georgia high hurdler, should not be an "Olympic hopeful." He has not had the experience of at least seven of the nation's ranking hurdlers. As late as a few months ago he had not shown the natural ability that makes an athlete a leader in one of the most trying track events—the high hurdles. Towns may get there because of his indomitable spirit and a firm belief that he can get over the tall timbers—in front of any competitor.

Towns first put on spiked shoes as a freshman. After having made something of a name for himself on the yearling football squad, Towns reported for track. He was a high jumper, and his prospects looked none too bright. Weena Baskin, an assistant track coach at Georgia, singled Towns out as a hurdling prospect.

When Towns was a high school student at Richmond Academy he got his early training. If one could call it that. There were a few exceptionally tall garbage cans that rested on the curb along streets near his home. Often Towns, a lanky lad ideally suited to the sport he follows so assiduously today, was seen dashing along skimming the ash cans. The fact that they were ill-spaced meant nothing, for Towns had no aspirations of becoming a track athlete.

First Race Slow

Towns had no great desire to learn the art of clearing the high sticks even after Coach Baskin had singled him out. His first race over the 120-yard hurdles was anything but impressive. He was timed in 18 seconds flat. But by the end of his freshman year he had cut down to 15.1 seconds. As a sophomore he won the Southeastern A. A. U. high hurdles title, when he led the field across the finish line in 14.8.

It was not until this winter that Forrest really blossomed out as a first-flight hurdler. On the boards he lowered the world mark for the 60-yard hurdles, a record formerly held by his coach. Towns was timed at 7.3 seconds and cut 1-10 of a second off Baskin's mark. This spring Towns skipped over the 120-yard high in 14.1 in his heat at the Southeastern Conference meet and repeated the time in the final. Several days later he equaled that time over the 110-meter high hurdles in the A. A. U. sectional meet. Three times in one week he bettered Percy Beard's world record of 14.2.

His temperament—his will to win—brought about the rapid improvement. Towns has a great heart and is a rare competitor. He hates to lose. He is the driving type of athlete—one who works hard all the way. In action he looks very much like Coach Baskin.

May Break 14 Seconds

"Towns has the ideal temperament for a hurdler," Baskin says. "I believe it's even better than that of Percy Beard, nationally known Auburn star."

Baskin once worked with Beard. In Baskin's opinion, Towns has the ability to break 14 seconds over the high sticks and Baskin expects him to do so before he winds up his track career.

"Spec" is a modest lad. In New Orleans, where he ran in the Sugar Bowl events on New Year's Day, a photographer asked him where the high hurdles were. Towns pointed to one against whom he was to run. "There's the best one," he said. Later the cameraman returned, saying: "You knew all the time you were the one I wanted to photograph."

That's Towns' manner. He beat several top-flight hurdlers in the race, including Sam Allen, Al Morau and Johnny Morris.

Towns defeated a select field of high hurdlers in the recent invitation meet. His amazing late rush left the leaders as though they were standing still—a typical example of his powerful driving finish and his unwillingness to accept defeat when it is staring him in the face.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

Los Angeles—Art Lasky, 197, Minneapolis, stopped Johnny Packer, 180, Chicago (5).

San Antonio, Tex.—Willard Brown, 143, Baton Rouge, La., and Tony Herrera, 143, El Paso, Tex., drew (10).

Tagging Major League Base

By the Associated Press.

That rough and ready gang of Cardinals from the other side of the tracks is proving a tough team to keep down despite the recent feats of Charley Grimm's Chicago Cubs. As for the Yankees, who have adopted some of the "gas house" tactics of bludgeoning the opposition without mercy, there doesn't seem to be any way at all to hinder them.

After being shoved down into second place for one day and then sharing the lead with the Cubs for another—the first time in over a month the top of the National League had not been exclusively theirs—the Cards fought their way back into first place yesterday with a double victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, one of their major rivals.

Both games were tough ones but under the leadership of John Leonard (Pepper) Martin, leading exhibitor of "gas house" vigor, and the venerable Jesse "Pop" Halpern, the Cardinals won 2 to 1 and 4 to 3.

The Yankees, meanwhile, buried their closest rivals, the Boston Red Sox, under a landslide of blows to win a doubleheader 10 to 5 and 6 to 3, and increased their lead to 9½ games. A crowd of 54,046 at the Yankee Stadium saw Lou Gehrig contribute his 19th and 20th home runs to the festivities to take second place in the major league race behind Jimmie Foxx, who has 22 homers. A third major development yesterday was the Giants' drop out of the first division for the first time since 1932. A 7 to 6 setback at the hands of the Boston Bees put the Terrymen one point behind the Cincinnati Reds, who had an open date. The Phillies-Dodgers, Tigers-White Sox and Indians-Browns games were rained out.

Mace Brown limited the Cards to three hits in the first game but Halpern out-thought rather than out-pitched him. "Pop" gave eight hits, but few good ones to swing at. Going into the seventh a run behind, Stu Martin singled and Pepper brought him home with a triple, then scored the winning run as Joe Medwick's fly. The Bucos got off ahead again in the second clash but St. Louis got to Ralph Birkhofer in the sixth and tied the score at 3-3. In the ninth a single and an error put Terry Moore on second and "Wild Horse" Martin brought him in with a single. In addition to Gehrig's two homers, one in each game—the Yanks hammered five Boston pitchers for 22 hits, one a homer by Myril Hoag. They had to rally in the eighth inning of each contest to win although they shelled Lefty Grove out in the opener and did some hefty clouting against Johnny Marcum in the afterpiece. Lefty Gomez also failed to go the route.

The Giants' hot off to a four-run lead in the second but failed to hold it as Hal Schumacher gave up 13 hits, four by Mickey Haslin. Mickey drove in Boston's winning run in the ninth after Tony Cuccinello had singled and advanced on Hal Lee's sacrifice.

Autos Collide at By-Pass Intersection

The new Studebaker sedan of Dennis J. Murphy of 14 Cottage Row, Kingston and the Chevrolet coupe of Louis Tourano of 265 East 209th street, Bronx, were in collision near the intersection of the East Chester street by-pass and Route 9-W, shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. Both cars were damaged, but the drivers were not hurt.

According to the story told to Troopers Reilly and Metzger and Sheriff Molyneux and Deputy Vredenburg, who investigated the accident, Murphy, who was driving north on the by-pass, stopped at the intersection, intending to turn south toward Albany avenue, when the Tourano car, which was following and being driven toward Albany, crashed into the rear of the Studebaker.

Perry Beats Budge In Wimbledon Clash

Wimbledon, Eng., July 1 (AP).—Fred Perry, bidding for his third straight title, gained the final round of the all-England tennis championship today as he came from behind to trim California's Don Budge, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

For the second straight year Perry's opponent in the final, to be played Friday, will be Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, Germany's Davis Cup star. Von Cramm defeated Perry's cup mate, H. W. (Bunny) Austin, 8-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3 in the other semi-final match.

VAN BUREN TO REPORT FOR CHAUTAUQUA DAILY NEWS.

Walter C. Van Buren, who recently signed a contract to teach industrial arts in the George Wythe Junior High School at Hampton, Virginia, has accepted a position as a reporter on the staff of the Chautauqua Daily News at Chautauqua, N. Y.

The Chautauqua is the official newspaper of Chautauqua and it is published during the months of July and August only. Mr. Van Buren was offered the position because of the record he established as a sports correspondent for three Buffalo newspapers while he was a student at Buffalo State Teachers' College. He will leave Kingston tomorrow to take up his duties on Friday.

YOUTH STOPS CAR QUICKLY BUT AGE HOLDS ROAD BEST

Richmond, Va. (AP).—Youth's foot is quick on the brake in an emergency, but the older is better at keeping the automobile on the straight and narrow, tests given autoists by the Richmond department of public safety indicate. The tests showed:

Automobile drivers over 25 are more proficient at keeping automobiles on the highway and at judging speed.

Autoists under 25, at a signal, brought their machines to a standstill more promptly and were less affected by the sun's glare.

Egyptian Beauty Dead 57 Centuries Is Found

London.—Perfectly preserved 5,700 years after burial, the slender body of a lovely princess of ancient Egypt has been discovered intact, resting in a tomb under one of the Gizeh pyramids, the Daily Telegraph reported in a dispatch from Cairo.

The discovery was made by the Egyptian anthropologist, Prof. Selim Hassan.

The beautiful princess, who died 3500 B. C., was believed to have been a daughter of the great Pharaoh Chephren, who erected the second loftiest pyramid in Egypt.

Costly and delicately carved pieces of jewelry decorated the body of the princess. At her feet lay two heaps of gold.

Working with infinite patience, Professor Hassan toiled for 34 hours removing the thin layer of mud on the mummy.

The finely featured face of the princess, and her soft, smooth neck were particularly well preserved.

In an attitude more of graceful slumber than of death, the princess' body was reclining on its side.

Her small wrists were encircled with bracelets of thin gold.

So fragile is the body that work of excavating and removing it from the dark depths of the pyramid is expected to require a great deal of time.

Idle Light Will Be Staged Tonight

Light, when the Kingston Play-Guild presents "Candlelight" at the Municipal Auditorium at 8 o'clock a very enjoyable play is promised to those who attend. The cast has been working diligently for five weeks under the direction of Albert Edward Miller in the attempt to achieve as a perfect performance as possible. Last night's dress rehearsal the players moving through parts with capable skill and a lightness which help but bring out the best in the witty comedy. John Burge is at home in his role of Prince of the proper amount of sophistication. Karl Limmer, who will be remembered as Murray Chalmers Ried in "The Guest" is expected to top that performance, although playing an entirely different character as Josef, prince's valet. Gertrude Heisel is charming as Marie, the girl who would go adventuring in the apartment, and the support cast with Shirley Silverman, Mary Lyons, Henry Osterhoudt and Art Flynn, are exceedingly well trained to their respective parts. It will be the last of the plays staged by the Players' Guild this season, and it is believed that it will live up to the expectations of the members by marking an improvement over previous productions. Tickets nominally priced and may be secured from Guild members or at the box office on the night of the performance. They will be delivered to anyone who will call George Betts, Jr.

Today

Broadway: "The Case Against Mrs. Ames." Here's the tops in emotional courtroom drama, as good a thriller as one could seek in its revealing story of what happens on the witness stand in a mother-son mixup that sparkles with interest, tenseness and electrifying drama. Madeleine Carroll, in her first starring role, is excellent as the suspected and harassed Mrs. Ames, while George Brent is pretty bewildered at times as the brisk and angry prosecutor. Others in the cast of this Paramount film are Arthur Treacher, Beulah Bondi, Mayo Methot and Edward Brophy. A Walter Wanger production, directed by William Seiter from a story by Arthur Somers Roche.

Kingston: "It's Love Again" and "Law in Her Hands." How the public is foxed into believing a chorus girl is a real, mystical Indian princess with a weakness for Maharajahs and Asiatic foods, is uncovered in the main feature at the Kingston, the story of a little girl who wanted to make good in the show world. The play stars Jessie Matthews from England, known as the "Dancing Divinity" and Mes Matthews scores heavily in a dance drama, tailor made to her talents. A musical romance on the lavish scale, the cast offers Robert Young, Sonnie Hale, Ernest Milton and Cyril Wells. The songs were written by Coelow and Woods and the production was under the GB banner and made in England. "Law in Her Hands" is the other full length feature with Margaret Lindsay and Glenda Farrell.

Orpheum: "The Ghost Goes West" and "Speed Reporter." One of the cleverest comedy-mystery drama of last year is the main feature at the Orpheum. A Gamout-British film, it stars the handsome Robert Donat and it tells of a ghost that haunts an old Scottish castle because of the cowardice of a son of the family centuries before. The ghost is a dead ringer for the modern young descendant and when the castle is sold and the young man goes to America, the ghost goes along too. Much of the play's brilliance is due to the direction of Rene Claire. The show is a skillful mixture of fun, satire and romance. "Speed Reporter" is the other feature with Richard Talmadge starred.

The World of Stamps

By QUINTON JAMES.

Two stamps from France, one a contributory factor to a children's aid fund and the other a commemorative to an early balloonist, have come out almost simultaneously.

The stamp for the youngsters is inscribed "Help for the children of the unemployed." It bears the postal value of 50 centimes, to which 10-c is added for the children's fund. The illustration shows a group of boys and girls looking from a window, with three of the boys waving handkerchiefs. The color is brick red.

Jean Francois Pilatre de Rozier, the first human being to go up in a balloon, is honored by the other stamp, a 75-c blue. This native of Metz made several ascents in a captive fire-balloon (the fire was kindled in a brazier suspended under the balloon while aloft) in October, 1783. On November 21, 1783, he and the Marquis d'Arlandes trusted themselves to a free fire-balloon. The experiment was made from the Jardin du Chateau de la Muette, in the Bois de Boulogne. A large fire-balloon was inflated and rose to a height of about 500 feet. Passing over the Invalides and the Ecole Militaire, it descended beyond the Boulevards, about 9,000 yards from the place of ascent, having been in the air 20 to 25 minutes.

The stamp marks the 151st anniversary of Pilatre de Rozier's fatal attempt to cross the English chan-Rozier's balloon, his portrait in profile and his birth and death dates are all on the stamp.

Austria Adds Two.

Apparent need for higher values to the set of 1934, which used designs centered around various native costumes, has caused Austria to issue 3 and 5-shilling denominations. The current group of stamps ended at 2-s.

Designs on the two stamps depict city and farm labor. On the 3-s orange red is a farm family gathering grain, while on the 5-s black brown are a mason and other workers busy at a construction task. The stamps are approximately an inch square and follow the general motif of the previous designs, but are somewhat larger in size.

Ethiopian Leftovers.

New York philatelists are beginning to wonder what happened to the postal remailers of Ethiopia at the departure of Haile Selassie. There has been no definite indication whether such stamps were left in the post office of Addis Ababa or whether an unrevealed number of them may have been taken by the defeated emperor when he fled his country.

While there are no known out and out rarities in the Ethiopian group of stamps, even dating back to the first issue in 1894, the fact that stamp control in this country has passed to the Italian colonial office may have the effect of heightening their value.

The last issue under Haile Selassie in 1931, together with the surcharges that came out the first of this year, had not been in existence long enough to make their numbers in a postmarked condition numerous in a country where the amount of mail is small.

nel in a balloon. This feat had been first achieved in January, 1785, by Jean Pierre Blanchard and Dr. J. Jeffries, an American physician, but Pilatre de Rozier set out on June 15, the same year, to cross in the opposite direction, from Boulogne to England. Half an hour after starting, his double balloon burst into flames and fell from a supposed height of more than 3,000 feet. He was killed on the spot.

The Metz Cathedral, Pilatre de

Beaumont is taking a special study course.

Virginia Williams and Horace Churchill are attending 4-H congress at Ithaca.

Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Klein and son, Philip, are visiting relatives in New York city.

Virginia Weidner, pig-tailed little actress, is the daughter of a Hollywood architect.

How to satisfy a healthy appetite without putting on weight is ever a problem to the business woman. The kind of food we eat is largely a matter of habit. Heavy food creates a desire for more heavy food just as the first piece of candy inspires the wish for more. Similarly a properly balanced diet, habitually followed, not only equips the body with nourishment and energy but satisfies the appetite as well.

Check Fingerprints Of Rudy Hubig

The Department of Justice at Washington has been asked to compare the fingerprints of Rudy Hubig, held in jail on a vagrancy charge, with records in that office to determine whether Hubig is traveling under an alias. When arrested by State Trooper Dunn Hubig said he was from New York city and gave an address which later was found to be a synagogue.

Checking other facts given by the prisoner Trooper Dunn was led to believe that Hubig was concealing his true identity. A check of police photographs shows that the man held in the Ulster county jail closely resembles a fugitive from justice and confidence man who has traveled under many names. In order to check up on this fingerprints have been submitted to the department for checking.

Recently Sheriff Abram Molyneux has submitted to the Department of Justice fingerprints taken of suspected prisoners and in several instances it has been found that there is a prior record. Identity of persons traveling under an alias is quickly established by this method of checking.

New Rolling Mill Used

Buffalo, N. Y., June 30 (AP)—A $20,000,000 continuous mill that can roll a white hot slab of steel into a long, thin strip in two minutes was placed formally in operation today by the Bethlehem Steel Company. It occupies 22 acres of floor space near the main plant in Lackawanna and has an estimated annual capacity of 600,000 tons of hot and cold rolled strip-sheet—sheet steel rolled into long strips.

Take the 10 Days.

James Flemming, Jack Hoffman, Richard Parker and Charles Taylor were arrested at Marlborough Tuesday on charges of vagrancy. Justice Rusk imposed a 10 day or 10 days in jail. They took the 10 days.

Stole a Bicycle.

William Sweeney was arrested at Phoenix Tuesday by State Trooper Raymond Dunn on a charge of stealing a bicycle. Justice Theron Townsend imposed a 30 day jail sentence.

On The Radio Day By Day

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

Time Is Daylight Savings

New York, July 1 (AP)—Another address broadcast by John D. M. Hamilton, the second since he became chairman of the Republican National Committee, has just been scheduled for Thursday night. This will originate via WJZ-NBC at 10 o'clock from Chicago at a banquet tendered to him by Illinois Republicans. Insertion of the talk into the schedule has necessitated a change in time for the Pan-American concert from Washington originally listed for this hour. It will start at 10:30 instead.

For Saturday, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, speaking from Grandville, in that state, will be heard via WEAF-NBC at 6 p. m. He is expected to provide a Republican analysis of the Democrat's platform under the topic, "We Hold These Truths To Be Self Evident."

Starting date for the next series of Music Appreciation Hours, the ninth consecutive, has been set for October 2 on the combined WEAF-NBC. A new time schedule has been arranged. Instead of 12 m. the programs will be heard 3 p. m. Dr. Walter Damroch is to continue in charge.

Tuning in tonight (Wednesday): Talks—WEAF-NBC 7:45 and WABC-CBS 11 N. E. A. Convention; WABC-CBS and WJZ-NBC 11:15 Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau giving summary of fiscal year. WEAF-NBC—8 On Man's Family; 9 Colonel and Budd; 10 Hit Parade (Also WJZ-NBC); 11:45 Jesse Crawford, organ; 12:30 Lights Out. WABC-CBS—7:30 New Benny Field Series; 8 Cavalcade of America; 8:30 Burns and Allen; 9 Additional Kostelanetz Dance; 9:30 New Sing Series; 10 Gang Busters. WJZ-NBC—7:15 Olympic Prospects; 8 Willie and Eugene Howard; 8:30 Lavender and Old Lace; 9 Chicago Symphony; 12:05 Joe Venuti's Rhythm.

What to Expect Thursday: WEAF-NBC—2 p. m. Thursday Matinee; 4:45 N. E. A. Convention (Also WABC-CBS 5:15); 5:30 Answer Me This. Variety; 5:45 Wilderness Road. WJZ-NBC—12:30 Farm and Home Hour; 2:30—Music Guild; 5 South Sea Islanders.

Some Thursday Short Waves: PHI Netherlands 9:50 a. m. Broadway Serenades; JYM Tokyo 5 p. m. Drama in the Orient; EAQ Madrid 8:16 8:45 Song Contest; GSD GSC London 8:05 "Fire at Sea"; YVZRC Caracas Evening Song of Birds; TPA4 Paris 11:30 Theatrical Program; CJRO CJRX Winnipeg 1:45 Remember Tunes.

PLANE CRASHES ON NORMANDIE'S DECK

Pulled by a sudden down draft from the huge liner's funnels, a royal British air force bomber crashed into the bow of the liner Normandie while she lay at anchor off the Isle of Wight. The pilot, uninjured, apologized and left the ship, while his plane made an unexpected journey to LeHavre, France. (Associated Press Photo)

Y. M. C. A. Camp Gets New Boat

Better and bigger boats seem to be one of the main topics of conversation these days. The Normandie and the Queen Mary carry a great fascination for folks but the new addition to the fleet at Camp Preumaker promises to be of greater interest to the "Y" Campers. The new boat is a 15 foot metal rowboat with built-in air chambers in bow and stern. The rounded-V bow makes it very easy to handle in the water. The new boat brings the total number of boats at the camp to six, the other five being wooden rowboats that have given real service for a number of years. This year they have been newly painted, new oar blocks put on and the boats generally re-conditioned.

Boating is very popular at the camp, the Esopus at that point being a beautiful stretch of water on which to enjoy it. All boys at the camp have an opportunity to go out in the boats but only those boys who pass the "boat test" have the privilege of taking a boat out unaccompanied by a leader or designated person who is responsible for the boys' safety. The boat test consists of a swimming test, knowledge of the boat—such as bow, stern, port and starboard sides, what is a safe load for a boat, demonstrate ability to handle the boat well, be able to get into it from the water, etc.

Young men from the N. Y. A. have been assisting the camp management recently in fixing up the waterfront and rebuilding the dock which was wrecked by the spring floods. Friday the camp and staff goes to the camp to put on the finishing touches and get everything in readiness for the campers' arrival on Monday, July 6. The first week of the camp is completely filled but registrations are still being accepted for the weeks beginning July 13, 20 and 27 and will be accepted in the order received until the periods are filled.
